SCCADVASA IS . . .

A statewide membership coalition formed in 1981 consisting of all the domestic violence programs and rape crisis centers in South Carolina to represent the critical needs of victims/survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault.

OUR VISION . . .

SCCADVASA is the leader in directing efforts to eradicate interpersonal violence in South Carolina.

OUR MISSION . . .

SCCADVASA supports Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault member programs, provides education and advocates for social reform to eradicate interpersonal violence in South Carolina.

OUR PURPOSE . . .

- To support the work of member programs to ensure vital services for victims/survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault.
- To monitor and influence public policy and legislation on domestic violence and sexual assault issues.
- To promote awareness and educate the citizens of the state about the social and personal costs of domestic violence and sexual assault.
- To facilitate the development of partnerships and coordinate efforts between Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault programs, as well as public and private organizations.

OUR PHILOSOPHY . . .

- We believe that oppression is the root of violence and we oppose it in all of its forms including, but not limited to, racism, sexism, classism, ageism, ethnocentrism and homophobia.
- We combat the roots of violence in ourselves, each other and within the larger economic, political and social (including the family) systems.
- We believe that perpetrators of interpersonal violence should be held accountable for their actions.
- We believe that services and programs should empower the individual and reflect our diverse communities.
- We believe in a consensus model of leadership to ensure everyone has an equal voice in decision making.
